To State Water Resources Control Board,

I am writing in regards to the training requirements in the draft stormwater runoff permit for California. I encourage you to approve the Certified Stormwater Inspector Course (CSI) put on by the National Stormwater Center. This is an excellent course and makes available to SWPPP Practitioners the training needed to conduct stormwater inspections. I know of no other training available in California that so clearly covers laws, BMPs, and inspection methods and requirements. This course helps keep the standards and concern for clean water high. Please consider including the National Stormwater Center's course as acceptable training for SWPPP practitioners.
