

commentletters - Hog wash!

From: "carole wiles" <magicis@sonic.net>
To: <commentletters@waterboards.ca.gov>
Date: Tuesday, April 28, 2009 10:28 AM
Subject: Hog wash!

Commercial use (wineries and creameries as well as high tech manufacturers, like OCLI, are big users) has to go down to 80% of last years usage and they were informed about the proposed cut last year. so, in effect, all they had to do was pump up what they were using last year so that this year they wouldn't suffer. plus, the city of santa rosa made the money selling building permits to all the contractors (which means less water for all of us).....and now our rates are going up?
carole

