

commentletters

LATE COMMENT

From: Susana Howard <susanahoward@jps.net>
Sent: Monday, June 15, 2015 3:05 PM
To: commentletters
Subject: 6/16-17/15 board meeting Russian River watershed

To the California Water Board,

I am not in favor of your "Emergency Drought Proposal" due to the one fact that conservation measures only apply to "non-economic" uses of water.

Am I to understand those "economic" business's that use 80 percent of the water are to be exempt!

In my area it is the "vice" agricultural crop wine grapes that are the main problem for the fish right now. These vineyards surround my little half acre one person household.

Am I to assume my personal vegetable plants go without water and the grape vines continue to consume alarming amounts of water?

What a travesty and an outrage to ask the peasants to go without while the royalty of big business in wine continue to pillage our resources!

S. Howard

Living In the Russian River watershed, Green Valley Creek critical area.