Public Comment
Draft Construction Permit
Deadline: 6/11/08 by 12 p.m.

I am opposed to this new regulation which without demonstrating any marked improvements to water quality will impose onerous new requirements for managing storm water runoff on construction projects of all kinds. These are wholly unnecessary new requirements and will do little if nothing to improve environmental impacts while instead will create considerable confusion, add unreasonable costs and expose homebuilders and others involved in development to litigation.

You are on the verge of legislating/regulating the development industry out of business in a time of recession and where the industry, itself, is on the verge of bankruptcy. Enough is enough!
