Oh, my gosh, I can't believe it, the 5th most 'zombie' of the significantly and individually and cumulatively adversely impacted watersheds as officially pronounced in 1997 by a multi-agency team comes alive! Oh, please do full bore documentation from the earliest logging/impact history right up to current high quality LiDAR! And with quality ease of public access and review!

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the North Coast Regional Water Quality Control Board (Regional Water Board) will conduct a public hearing to consider adoption of the above-referenced draft Order and Mitigated Negative Declaration on April 16, 2020, at 9:00 a.m., in Humboldt County at the location to be announced in the Regional Water Board's agenda and on its website: <http://www.waterboards.ca.gov/northcoast/>.

The purpose of draft Order R1-2020-0007 is to provide a water quality regulatory structure to prevent and minimize discharges of waste and other controllable water quality factors associated with timber harvest activities in the Stitz Creek watershed. At the hearing, the Regional Water Board will consider whether to affirm, reject, or modify the draft Order and Mitigated Negative Declaration, or take other action.

Project Description

On May 2, 2018, pursuant to Water Code section 13260(a), Humboldt Redwood Company (HRC), LLC, submitted a Report of Waste Discharge (ROWD) for its timber harvesting and related management activities on lands in the Stitz Creek watershed in Humboldt County. HRC manages its Stitz Creek timber holdings for growing conifer and hardwood trees for the production of saw and chip logs and other renewable forest products such as bio-fuel, split products, firewood, and burls.

The Initial Study and Mitigated Negative Declaration have been developed pursuant to the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) to analyze potential impacts from the draft Order. The draft Order establishes specific requirements based largely on HRC's ROWD, with additional measures as warranted, to meet applicable water quality requirements. Both the ROWD and the draft Order incorporate and include the following components:

- Measures to Prevent Sediment Discharge;
 - Forest Management;
 - Riparian Zone Protection;
 - Road Management;
 - Landslide Prevention;
- and,
- Inventory and Treatment of Existing Controllable Sediment Sources.
