Background

The Water Quality Control Plan for the San Diego Basin (Basin Plan) designates beneficial uses for water bodies in the San Diego Region and establishes water quality objectives and implementation plans to protect those beneficial uses. The objective of the federal Clean Water Act is “to restore and maintain the chemical, physical, and biological integrity of the Nation’s waters.” Existing water quality objectives in the San Diego Water Board’s Basin Plan emphasize the chemical integrity of waters on a pollutant-by-pollutant basis, which can underestimate the biological integrity of waters. The goal and intent of the biological objectives project is to use biological assessment (“bioassessment”) to better assess, protect, and restore designated aquatic life beneficial uses of waters.

The San Diego Water Board is proposing to amend the Basin Plan to incorporate general narrative guidance for the development of biological objectives and incorporate a numeric biological water quality objective for perennial and seasonal streams using benthic macroinvertebrates and the California Stream Condition Index (CSCI). The proposed numeric biological water quality objectives use the CSCI to evaluate attainment of aquatic-wildlife beneficial uses, provide for protection of high quality streams, and prioritize restoration activities.

The San Diego Water Board 2014 triennial review of water quality standards identified the amendment of the Basin Plan to incorporate biological water quality objectives as a high priority project needed to protect and restore beneficial uses associated with aquatic and aquatic dependent wildlife. On May 13, 2015, the San Diego Water Board adopted Resolution R9-2015-0043, which directed staff to begin working on the project to amend the Basin Plan to incorporate biological water quality objectives.

On January 22, 2018, the San Diego Water Board released an administrative draft (Administrative Draft) of the proposed amendments to the Basin Plan to incorporate biological objectives and subsequently held a public workshop during the February 14, 2018, San Diego Water Board Meeting. The Administrative Draft was released, and public workshop held, in order to receive initial comments and feedback from San Diego Water Board Members and the public prior to releasing a formal draft for public and peer review. On October 10, 2018, the San Diego Water Board adopted Resolution R9-2018-0123, which directed staff to continue working on the project.

This notice is for the formal release, for public review and comment, of the Draft Basin Plan Amendments, Staff Report, and Substitute Environmental Document. Feedback received from San Diego Water Board Members and the public on the Administrative Draft was considered by San Diego Water Board staff prior to public release of the proposed Basin Plan amendment and associated documents.
