

Jeanine,

I live in Stanislaus County and I am very concerned with the possible loss of water. We have a historic ranch which was established 161 years ago. We have approximately 80 acres of irrigated pasture (three separate pastures). We would hate to have further water restrictions. We also have the Trinitas project bordering our ranch which will no doubt affect our water table with their wells drawing water. They are supposed to be receiving Oakdale Irrigation District water to supplement their water supply. We have no idea at this point how this will affect our water supply.

Water is indeed the "new king". Please reconsider your position so we do not have people out of work and fields being dried up.

Thank you for your consideration.
