A 9% rate increase went into effect January 1. Your bill (for water used during the two month period between your December and February meter reads) is prorated at the old and new rates. The amounts billed at each rate are shown as separate line items. Due to the printing schedule of our Water Gram newsletter, the March/April edition will call for an 11-25 percent reduction. However, 20 percent is the latest request.

Reminder: The base charge portion of your bill has been changed to a daily rate based on the number of days between meter reads rather than a flat two-month charge. Your current bill may be less than you normally pay if the number of days between meter reads is less than 60 days. Future bills should resume to a fairly consistent 60-day period between meter reads.
