The State Water Board has completed a water supply model, report, and new tools assessing surface water availability in the Navarro River Watershed. These tools are designed to serve as a resource for local water users, managers, and interested parties. Join Board staff for a public meeting to see the models and reports, learn how they work, and how they can be used. Staff will be available to answer questions. A virtual meeting will also be conducted and recorded for later viewing on the program website.
